For whom

This workshop is addressed to anyone that is interested in studying or developing knowledge on Kabbalah, being the only pre-requisite to have a genuine interest on this subject, regardless of the person's philosophy, beliefs, religion (or its absence), gender, race or social status.

Program

From 10:00h - 13:00h : 14:30h – 16:30h

A general introduction to Kabbalah of the Toledano School; its history, the Tree of Life and the Four Worlds, Jacob's Ladder, its principles and meaning.

Application of the Kabbalah principles expressed in the structure and dynamics of the Tree of Life and Jacob's Ladder, in everyday life, examples and exercises.

Kabbalah is a living Tradition that has been evolving over many centuries, under many different forms, adapting itself to the religious and philosophical languages, according to culture, time and place, in order to be perceived and understood by all generations.

The workshop will be in English with translation to Portuguese.

Kabbalah

Kabbalah is the Jewish medieval name given to the esoteric Teaching that is to be found at the heart of every spiritual tradition, be it primitive or of the most sophisticated kind, providing that such tradition is still a real source of knowledge and mystical experience. This Teaching is in fact very old, dating back to prehistory.

Toledano Tradition

This line of Kabbalah follows the Tradition of Toledo School, that has its roots on medieval Spain where Judaism, Christianity and Islamism met in a civilized and cosmopolitan atmosphere, in this environment took place an esoteric fusion between religion and philosophy.

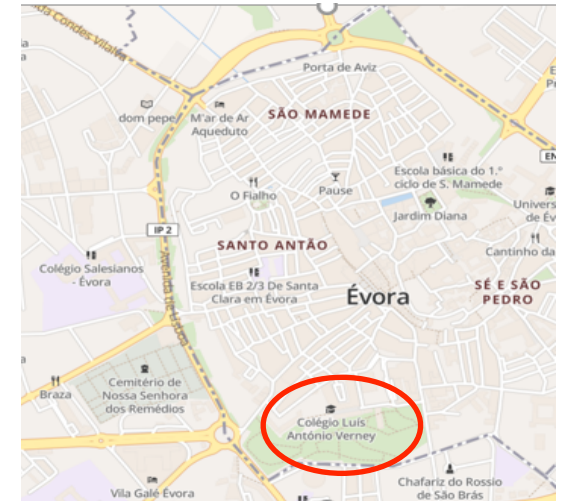

The hallmark of the Toledano lineage is Jacob's Ladder, a metaphysical scheme of the Four Worlds originated from the Kabbalistic Tree of Life. This diagram is the key to understand Existence, and our role in it.
